Special Requirements

1. Candidates applying with a bachelor's degree must be graduates of the Department of Psychology, Counseling Psychology, or a Faculty of Medicine, and candidates applying with a master's degree must graduate from Clinical Psychology and Health Psychology, Trauma Psychology, and Applied Psychology. In addition to the letter of intent, candidates are expected to apply with a research proposal, preferably in English.

2. Having a bachelor's degree in law from law schools in Turkey or outside Turkey. YÖK (Higher Education Board of Turkey) must recognize law schools outside Turkey.

3. The letter of intent must be written in English. In addition, candidates are asked to submit an article—preferably published and preferably in English. Examples of Articles are published articles, parts of a master's thesis, or any academic article written during the education period.

4. Candidates without an English score can also apply. After they pass the scientific evaluation exam and are accepted for the program, they may be offered an English preparation program.

5. Candidates who don't have a bachelor's or master's degree from the School of Communication must complete a scientific preparation program for one or two semesters after passing scientific evaluation exams.

6. Candidates who are Counseling Psychology or Psychology graduates can apply to this program.

7. For those applying with a bachelor's degree and a master's degree, a bachelor's and/or master's degree in psychology or related fields. Applications of students from outside the field of Psychology or PDR may also be accepted. However, candidates who apply to the Psychology PhD program with a bachelor's degree from outside the field of Psychology and PDR must take two semesters of Psychology scientific preparation courses decided by the department. Candidates whose bachelor's degree is from outside the field of Psychology and whose master's degree is from the field of Psychology are required to take two semesters of Psychology scientific preparation courses if their basic psychology knowledge is not deemed sufficient by the jury members if they are successful in the oral exam.

8. The letter of intent should be written in English.

9. Turkish citizens who do not have an English language certificate may also apply. Turkish citizen applicants who cannot meet the English language requirement may be offered a preparatory program if they are accepted to the program as a result of scientific evaluation exams.

10. Graduates of the Faculty of Education, those who have graduated from other fields and have a pedagogical formation certificate, those who have worked in educational institutions for at least one year, or those who work in the education-related units of public or private sector institutions and organizations can apply to the program.

11. Applicants applying must be graduates of the Department of Psychology or Guidance and Psychological Counseling. In addition to a letter of intent, applicants are expected to submit a research proposal in English with their application.

12. The letter of intent must be specifically written for the program and clearly articulate the applicant's reasons for selecting it.

Note: Candidates who want to apply for a doctorate with a bachelor's degree must have at least 80 points in the ALES exam and a 3.00/4.00 grade point average as an undergraduate GPA.
